DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's communication filed on 10/27/05 has been carefully considered by the examiner. The arguments advanced therein are persuasive with respect to the restriction and rejection of record, and those restrictions are accordingly withdrawn. In view of a further search, however, a new rejection is set forth below. This action is not made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3, 19-21 and 39-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being unpatentable by Hendler et al (US 2004/0125020).

Regarding claim 1, Hendler discloses an antenna comprising a ground plane (18); a conductor loop (24 and 30) overlying the ground plane (18); and a monopole (14 and 16) extending off the ground plane (18), wherein the monopole (14 and 16) and the conductor loop (24 and 30) are configured to be coupled to a common feed-point. See figures 1-8, col.3, lines [0033] -[0037] to col.5, lines [0048]-[0057].

Regarding claim 2, Hendler discloses the conductor loop has a reflective feature therein. See figure 1.

Regarding claim 19, Hendler discloses a wideband printed monopole antenna having a helical element wrapped around the monopole and couple to the common feedpoint. See col.2, lines [0017] –[0019].

Regarding claim 20, Hendler discloses an antenna comprising: a frame; a radio communications circuit supported by the frame; a conductive ground plane disposed on a substrate supported by the frame; a conductor loop supported by the frame and overlying the ground plane; and a monopole supported by the frame and extending off the ground plane, wherein the monopole and the conductor loop are configured to be commonly coupled to the radio communications circuit at a common feedpoint. See figures 1-8, col.3, lines [0033] –[0037] to col.5, lines [0048]–[0057].

Regarding claim 21, Hendler discloses the conductor loop has a reflective feature therein. See figure 1.

Regarding claims 39-42, Hendler discloses an antenna comprising: a frame; a radio communications circuit supported by the frame; an antenna electrically coupled to the radio communications circuit, attached to the frame and comprising commonly fed conductor loop, monopole and helical elements and conductor loop element comprises a rectangular conductor loop. See figures 1-8, col.3, lines [0033] – [0037] to col.5, lines [0048]–[0057].

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3-18, 22-38 and 43 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2821

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Prior art does not teach that, wherein the reflective feature comprises a corner recited in dependent claim 3 and 22.

Prior art does not teach that, wherein the ground plane, the conductor loop element, the monopole element and the helical element are configured to provide a voltage standing wave ratio (VSWR) less than about 3 over a frequency range from about 1.5 GHz to about 2.5 GHz and a VSWR less than 3 over a frequency range from about 800 MHz to about 900 MHz recited in dependent claim 43.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Woo (US 6,317,086) and Bowers et al (US 5,914,692) are cited to show a multiple loop antenna.
